

And the Winner is...FNAQPA!

This year, FNAQPA received the Best Organization in Europe Award at the European Association of Homes and Services for the Ageing (EAHSA) annual conference in Amsterdam.

FNAQPA (Federation Nationale Avenir et Qualite de Vie des Personnes Agees) is one of the leading French organizations specializing in issues affecting the elderly since 1991. FNAQPA brings together 400 administrators of both non-profit nursing homes and home services to advocate for their interests at the national and regional levels and to encourage high quality care.

To achieve this, FNAQPA is committed to contributing and disseminating reliable knowledge and to inspiring public policy.

This award recognized FNAQPA's commitment to ADD'AGE (Sustainable Development Action for the support of Ageing). ADD'AGE focuses on the importance of anticipating and actively searching for solutions for the ageing services sector, built on its care values of respect, independent responsibilities and commitment.

Didier Sapy, Director of FNAQPA, says "This award is an added-value for the recognition of our work at a national level and it gives us an opportunity to make us visible abroad. This prize proved that this topic is reproducible, highly relevant and make sense beyond the borders. We hope that this award will allow us to gather people who share similar reflections and, perhaps, open us to some new perspectives for partnerships."

FNAQPA will continue to get involved in those reflections by organizing:

- "Sustainable Development in the Ageing sector", a conference to be held on 10 December 2015
- The European Conference of EAHSA, 22 - 23 September 2016
